In the works for almost a year, and with contributions from many people in our community, this is the first book about the history of Rochester Junction ever published. The book chronicles the Junction's days as a key stop on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, through its conversion to a rail-trail by the Mendon Foundation and Monroe County Parks in the present day.

The book (retail price: $20) is available by emailing president@mendonfoundation.org as well as at the following locations, who have graciously agreed to have a limited number of copies on hand to sell at any given time:

- The Honeoye Falls – Town of Mendon Historical Society Museum at Harry Allen Park in the Village of Honeoye Falls, NY during Sunday hours (2-4pm).
- The Mendon Town Hall in the Village of Honeoye Falls during normal business hours.
- The New York Museum of Transportation in Rush, NY during Sunday hours (11am-4pm).
